V Law – Religion – Politics Conference

LRPC 2019

V LAW – RELIGION – POLITICS CONFERENCE

Another year, full of changes in law, politics, and even religion went by. We would thus like to invite you – for the fifth time – to reflect on the shifts taking place in these disciplines. This year we invite you to discuss in the following panels:

- > current changes in law;
- > current changes in politics and religion;
- > law, religion, and politics;
- > classical panel on political and legal doctrines;
- > classical panel on theory and philosophy of law.

The conference is open to students, PhD students, and full-time academics.

The conference has an international status.

We invite you to send the 250-350 words abstracts until midnight on the 15th of March via EasyChair under the link: <https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=lrpc2019>.

We will inform you about the acceptance until midnight on the 22nd of March.

Registration for both conference speakers and conference listeners will open until the 22nd of March.

The working languages of the conference are Polish and English.

There will be no conference fee, however the conference dinner will be paid for individually.

The best papers will be published in the journal Acta Erasmiana or Studia Erasmiana.

Should you have any questions, please write to us at: lrpconference@gmail.com.
